WEDDING.

Woolsey-Bacon.

One of the largest and most fashionable of the weddings of the month took place at Center church, New Haven, Thursday afternoon, when Miss Dorothy E. Bacon, the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Benjamin W. Bacon, was married to Heathcote Mulron Woolsey, the son of Prof. Theodore S. Woolsey of Yale university. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, assisted by Dr. Endicott Peabody, president of Groton school, where the bridegroom is an instructor.

Center church has never been more attractively adorned for a bride than it was Thursday. Palms and Boston ferns were used with lovely pale pink hydrangeas.

The bride had as maid of honor Miss Marguerite Almy of Norwich, and the bridesmaids were Miss May Dana of New Haven, and Miss Elinor Mather, niece of Prof. and Mrs. Williston Walker, who returned home from Europe especially for the wedding.

The best man was Richard Ely Denison of Groton, Yale 1907.

The bridegroom wore a very picturesque. The bridesmaids wore gowns of pink chiffon bordered with a morning glory design over a slip of pale green. The gowns were made Empire fashion, high in back, with rosettes and long streamers.

Their hats were of white leghorn with pink roses and they carried white sweet peas. The maid of honor's gown was of green moccasin crepe trimmed with touches of white. She wore also a large white leghorn picture hat, trimmed with roses and carried a shower bouquet of Killarney roses and pink hydrangeas.

The bride's gown was a beautiful white duchesse satin, made Empire, with long train. The bodice was made of white duchesse lace worn by the bride's mother and grandmother. The train was caught with orange blossoms worn by her great grandmother.

The bride is a granddaughter of Dr.
Leonard Bacon and of Gen. W. A.
Aiken of Norwich, and is also a great-granddaughter of Governor Buckingham, Connecticut's war governor. The bridegroom is a son of Prof. Theodore S. Woolsey and a grandson of the late President Woolsey of Yale.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home in Edwards street. At the house the decorations were also pink and green. In the drawingroom hydrangeas and pink roses were used. The diningroom was done in white roses.

There were many out of town guests at the wedding.

final year of Jefferson's administration as president of the United States.

Plaintiff Still Presenting Testimony

In Suit of Furlong vs. New Haven Road—Short Calendar Session Today with Considerable Business Ready—Hearing on Sewer Assessments.

In the superior court here on Thursday the entire day was spent in the taking of testimony in the case of Furlong, adm., vs. the New Haven road.
At the opening of court A. A. D'Arche was called, his testimony not having been finished when court adjourned Wednesday. The witness was the one held for manslaughter following the week, but was discharged by a jury.
Charles H. Brainard, a brickman on the freight, was called by the plaintiff, and testified to his work on the train and also regarding the collision and the death of young Furlong.
The engineer of the work train, Henry Shepard, was called, and he stated that he was running the work train.
He did not know the road and had a pilot aboard, but he was in the caboose at the time of the accident, and the first he knew of trouble was when the airbrakes were applied from the rear of his train. He remained in the cab but his fireman jumped. He was examined as to his knowledge of the road about a week after the accident. He became somewhat mixed on his pronunciation of the names of stations on the Valley division.

At the opening of the afternoon session the station agent at Deep River, William Kane, testified to the accident, as did Jeremiah J. Duggan of Deep River, who saw the accident.

Conductor Guy B. Page of the work train testified to being in the lookout of the caboose with brakeman Furlong. As they saw the freight, both alighted out of their seats. Page went out the front door and escaped, but Furlong tried the rear door and was killed.

Conductor Mitchell of the freight train testified to the position of his train at the station, and said that he was in the south part of the freight house helping in the transfer of freight when he heard the whistle of the work train. He hustled to get away from the wreckage and went out the door. He explained that he was the other men of his crew were at the time of the accident, and thought his train was forty minutes late.

His direct examination was finished when court adjourned at 4.25 o'clock until this morning, while the jury was excused until Tuesday morning. There will be a short calendar session this morning, there being several actions to be heard and three uncontested divorce cases on the list.

Sewer Assessment Appeal.

The case brought by Attorney John H. Barnes, counsel for Charles F.
Reynolds, Ernest F. Cherry, Elizabeth M. Cherry and Jeannette Cherry, against the city, has been set for a hearing in the superior court today.
In this the plaintiffs appeal from the assessments laid for a public sewer from Cliff to North Cliff street across private land in North Cliff, Roath and Division streets. The sewer is laid across land of the plaintiffs named, and the total sum of $155.70 has been assessed upon them.

As stated in the complaint the plaintiffs appeal on the grounds that the assessments are illegal, void, unlawful, unjust and excessive, and the case will be presented on their side on the claim that there is nothing to show in the records that any right has ever given the city to put the sewer across this private land. It is also claimed that agreements for rebates made with other parties benefited by the sewer are illegally made and the assessments cannot therefore be laid and collected. There are other property owners whose land the sewer runs across, but they have not appealed.

Suit for $2,000.

Angelo Tordo, an Italian of Pawtucket, has filed in the superior court in this county the papers in a suit against the Lorraine Manufacturing company of Pawtucket, to recover $2,- 000 damages for injuries sustained at the company's branch mill in Pawtucket.

Tordo claims that while he was employed at the local mill on Dec. 23, 1908, he was directed to carry a quantity of oily waste, which caught fire from some unknown cause and burned his face, hands, arms, neck and chest, and ruined his clothes. It is also claimed that the company officials failed to warn him of the danger to which he was subjected.

250th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION of the Founding of Norwich, July 5th and 6th

NORWICH REPRESENTATION AT STATE FIELD DAY.

Vice President Connolly and Possibly Local Cadets Will Attend C. T. A.
U. Event.

The annual state parade and field day of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of Connecticut, which is to be held in Danbury on June 19th, promises to be one of the largest demonstrations of its kind ever held in this state. Great enthusiasm prevails among the members of the various affiliated societies throughout the state, and many of them are expected to be in the Danbury committee that has the arrangements for the day in hand, it appears that the parade this year will be even larger and better attended than that of last summer, held in Torrington, which was the most successful up to that time.

Great preparations are being made for the athletic events which are to be held at the Danbury fair grounds, and in which are entered many of the best known athletes of the east. Martin Sheridan, who recently broke his own world's record in the discus throw at Celtic park, is entered, as are Archer, Bonney, Elmer, Cloutman and Rolertson, and many others of equal prominence.

A splendid line of medals and cups are being entered in the open and closed events. The entries close on Monday, June 14th, and should be addressed to Bernard A. Gilhuly, postoffice box 1, Danbury.

John J. Connolly of this city, who is vice president of the C. T. A. U., will attend the field day, as will also several local athletes who are entered in the various events. It is also probable that the two companies of Tierney Cadets are located in this city will be in line.
